Scranton School District – Environmental Remediation Update

The Scranton School District is working diligently to perform all required remediation projects to ensure a safe environment for students and staff.

The District is currently waiting on air quality test results from Robert Morris, Frances Willard, and William Prescott Elementary Schools. The results are expected to be received this weekend. Upon receiving the results we will notify parents, students, staff and the school community immediately.

The full scope of the work that needs to be completed in order to remediate Northeast Intermediate School is still being determined. The administration is currently working on a short-term solution to provide continuous education for our students. The administration continues to work with the environmental experts on a long-term plan.

The district will keep all parents, students, and staff up-to-date with any and all information regarding the conditions of our buildings and the district's plans going forward.
